

ONI - Safeguarding the future of Social Housing

In today's Social Housing climate where efficiency is the central driver, the need to transform your organisation strategically becomes paramount. With greater competition for government funding and pressure from the Corporation to reduce numbers it is critical that RSLs are able to modify their practices to ensure their core values are retained.

ONI plc has come together with Cisco Systems and the NHF to provide price reductions and best practice solutions to the sector. This Affinity Partnership has been successful in identifying the importance of technology and the role of ICT as an enabler of business strategy.

IP Communications technology is already tackling the £830m efficiency deficit within the Social Housing sector. ONI has been instrumental in this model; understanding the needs of the sector while providing a consultative approach to our clients.

The convergence of applications such as voice and video is providing Associations with the inherent flexibility to manage their communications infrastructure on an integrated platform. Understanding the many challenges of the individual association; ONI will help combine technology and strategy to drive greater efficiency throughout the organisation.

If you would like to understand how you can provide innovative solutions to staff and tenants, increase customer service, reduce costs and maximise efficiency, contact ONI.
